

March 13, 2020

With increasing public health concerns regarding COVID-19, we believe it is wise for us not to gather for our regular worship service this Sunday, March 15.

This decision is motivated by love, not fear. Loving our neighbours includes protecting them. Health authorities have said that the best way to protect the vulnerable during this time is to take proactive action by suspending large group gatherings.

In lieu of our Sunday morning worship service, we encourage you to listen to past messages posted on our website or access Right Now Media which is a great free resource for sermons, kids' stories, Bible studies and more.

If you don't currently have access to Right Now Media, you can sign up on our website. Feel free to share this with neighbors and friends.

Further updates will be posted on our website www.gracepointchurch.ca. You can also sign up on the website to receive updates via email.

Information about ministry-specific events, classes or programs will be sent to relevant groups by Ministry Leads as decisions are made. Cancellations will also be updated in a post on the website. Thank you for your ongoing patience and understanding.
